

ROUND2 INC. EARNS ISO AND OHSAS CERTIFICATIONS

COMPLETION CONTINUES ONGOING COMMITMENT TO EXCEEDING QEH&S REGULATIONS

AUSTIN, TEXAS, SEPTEMBER 24, 2009 -- ROUND2 Inc. today announced its successful completion of ISO 9001: 2008, 14001: 2004 and OHSAS 18001: 2007 Certifications. Achieving independent recognition for quality, environmental, health and safety standards is another accomplishment for ROUND2 as the company works to solidify itself as a respected leader within the electronics recycling industry.

Ian Bagnall, ROUND2's Chief Executive Officer, said, "ROUND2 is committed to continually exceeding the highest QEH&S standards. Successfully completing the rigorous certification processes is a testament to our Team's desire to execute our business in the most socially responsible manner with a keen focus on safety. We believe the growth we enjoy, both at the local level as well as with Fortune 1000 clients, is directly attributed to these important and measurable commitments."

The International Organization for Standardization (ISO) is the accredited body for certifying some 15,000 international standards for business, government, and society. ISO 9001 focuses on process and customer satisfaction, while 14001 focuses on proper environmental management systems and 18001 is a commitment to workplace health and safety. OHSAS is a multi-disciplinary organization with expertise in a comprehensive range of occupational health and safety skills. It was developed in response to widespread demand for a recognized standard against which to be certified and assessed.

Randy Weiss, ROUND2's President, said, "The market is demanding a comprehensive recycling solution that is transparent and auditable. In today's competitive business environment it is important that we take the necessary steps to separate and distinguish ourselves inside the market place. ISO and OHSAS certifications give us yet another competitive edge."
